FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE MARCH 1, 2011

For further information contact Jesse Carter, public information officer, at 740-203-2085.

The Evening Kiwanis Club of Delaware has donated 1,000 CHAD (“Children Have an Identity”) stickers to the Delaware General Health District for child safety seats. Parents fill in their child’s name and family and physician contact numbers on the stickers so that vital information is available in emergency situations. Here, Kiwanis Club President Judy Lamp, left, presents a roll of the stickers to DGHD car seat technician Nikki Carroll, who is showing how the sticker gets displayed on a seat. The stickers will be presented to all parents and caregivers getting car seat checks or installation assistance from the Health District’s Safe Kids program. Additional information about car seat checks is available by calling 740-368-1700 or logging on to www.delawarehealth.org.
