SUNBURY, Oh., Jan. 26, 2011 – The community recycling bin serving Sunbury will be moved to the Vineyard Church on Friday.

The bin move will be permanent, according to Keep Delaware County Beautiful Coordinator Jenifer Way-Young. The move was requested by owners of the Big Walnut Plaza, where the bin has been stationed for the last several years.

The Vineyard Church is located at 1001 W. Cherry St., which is on the north side of the road and west of the current bin location. Way-Young thanked Vineyard Church leaders for providing the bin site, and asks bin users to be respectful and never leave items outside the bin.

The recycling bin is one of several provided and funded by the Delaware-Knox-Marion-Morrow Solid Waste District to provide recycling access to households in areas lacking curbside recycling collection. The Sunbury bin has been the busiest in Delaware County. In 2010, more than 700,000 pounds of paper, cardboard, and food containers made of glass, plastic, and metal were deposited in the bin.

The community recycling bins are maintained with assistance from Keep Delaware County Beautiful, the Delaware General Health District's recycling and litter prevention program.
