DELAWARE, Ohio, May 5, 2011 – The Delaware General Health District is presenting Clean Establishment Awards to 153 restaurants, stores, and other food service operations.

The awards are based on the results of inspections by Health District sanitarians. Recipients displayed excellent food safety and cleanliness practices during their two most recent standard health inspections, according to Stephanie DeGenaro R.S., the Delaware General Health District's Manager for Food Protection and Public Safety.

The award recipients included all of the qualifying schools in the Health District and all of the qualifying food establishments at the Columbus Zoo and Aquarium. Only establishments in the highest food safety risk categories qualify for the awards. No critical food safety violations were noted in the inspections of the establishments which received awards.

“We present these awards to promote food safety and the health of the people who patronize all of these establishments. Congratulations to these award winners. They have done an outstanding job,” said DeGenaro.
